Dear Kaitlyn,

As I'm sure you are aware this year the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency stated that anything about 8 parts per billion of microcystin (which results from toxic algal blooms) is unsafe for human contact. In 2018, measured levels in our community reached as high as 495 parts per billion - more than 60 times what is safe for human contact! Please tighten the standards for the amount of toxic algae allowed in our waterways. Thank you,

Bob Melvin, Principal
