Subject: Florida Water

Hello Kaitlyn - I hope this message finds you well. Chiming in about the water - I'm a local native from Miami very concerned about the water quality. I've noticed it's not the same tons of chlorine. I imagine it's due to all the leaks from turkey point. I realized millions/ perhaps billions were put in to put those aqua purification however I understand their are toxic leaks at turkey point and so concerned that nobody is considering how serious This is and can cause Florida to be the only state where the water isn't safe to drink! Think about the kids and their future kids. The generations to come are counting on us to do the right thing regardless of the cost.

We don't want another Chernobyl to happen and while you can roll your eyes while you read this please consider that it's possible. Considering the toxic leak at turkey point that hasn't been fixed and everyone is too busy pointing fingers and not doing anything about it.

If we are drinking toxic water it doesn't matter who is responsible simply that something is done about it before it's too late!

I know this is supposed to be about the toxic algae and I can only guess the algae has become toxic due to what is happening at Turkey point that no one is talking about. This is serious and I pray someone has the guts to stand up and say enough is enough. We need a solution!!!

Thanks for your time in advance,
