The water quality is definitely a serious concern. Not only does it effect the commercial interest in the area and its satellite businesses and not to mention, the health risks. My wife and I have lived in the area since the early 70's and enjoyed a weekend at the beach during the summer. Frankly, we have avoided the beach the past few years because of the concerns of the water quality. It needs to be addressed and the polluters need to find options on how to control their run-off.

Thanks,
John
