Subject: Please set limits on "toxic algae" and study the economic and health impact

Dear Ms. Sutton,

I am writing as a private, but very concerned, citizen urging the DEP to set limits on so-called toxic algae (Cyanobacteria) in Florida's waterways and drinking water.

The potential damage to Florida's environment and tourist trade is unacceptable in a state where people come from all over the globe to enjoy the natural beauty of our beaches and parks.

Also, there is the very real possibility that these "toxic algae" will cause human health problems including liver cancer.

It is time to protect Florida's water!

Thank you,
John Webb
