Dear Ms. Sutton,

Florida's ecosystem is unique and revered worldwide. Our economy and well-being depend upon its health. Allowing industry and bad planning to destroy our ecosystem is criminal. We must absolutely take steps to ensure that all corporations that emit any kind of waste be regulated and monitored thoroughly, carefully and diligently.

If we do not monitor this situation and take strong steps to remedy it immediately, the result will be catastrophic.

We must not allow partisan politics to influence action.

Since the evidence is clear that we have a demonstrable problem facing us, it would be inexcusable not to take steps toward remedying it immediately.

Please move forward aggressively in passing regulations that prohibit wanton and irresponsible toxic emissions into our waterways.

Please also move aggressively on redesigning our waterway systems that are prohibiting free flow of water throughout the state.

This is not an option at this point - it is a necessity.

Let's make Florida first in taking important steps toward preserving our natural world.

Thank you for addressing this matter, and I wish you success for the future of Florida.

Sincerely,

Kellie Rucker
