

Monitoring Locator

CERP Information and Data Management Contacts:

- Bill Hall, Proj Mgr, SFWMD
- Frank Grant – Proj Mgr, CESAJ

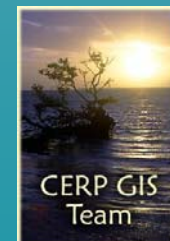

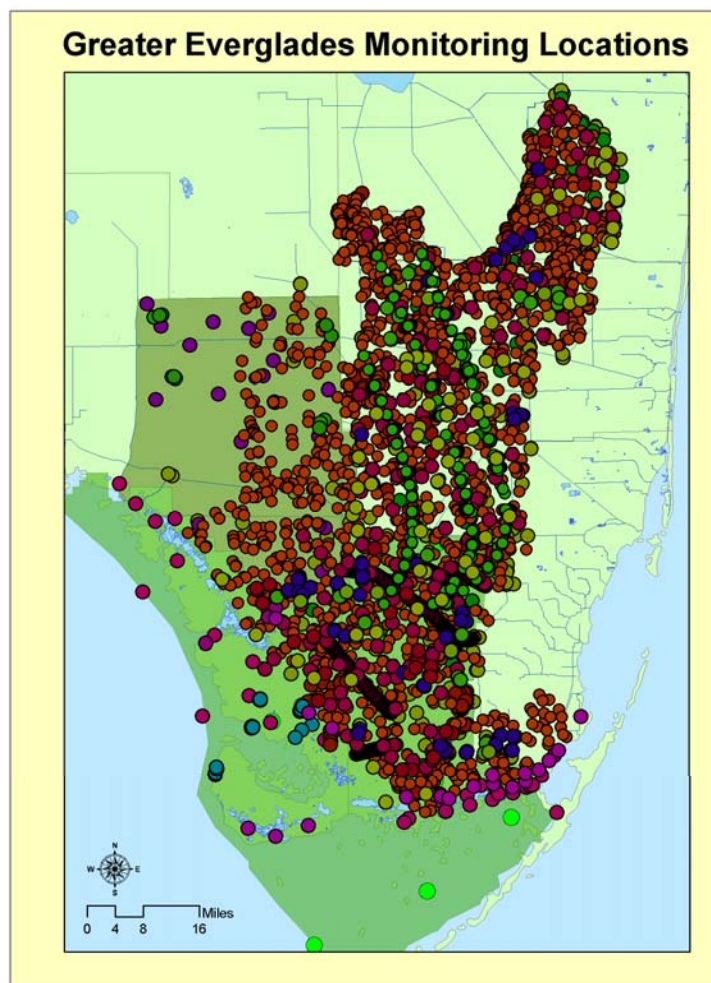

sfwmd.com

Monitoring Locator Why, What, Who?

- Make more efficient use of monitoring efforts and funding.
- Centralized Inventory of Monitoring Locations from Shingle Creek to Florida Bay.
- CERP related Monitoring information.
- CERP Partners and Participating Agencies.

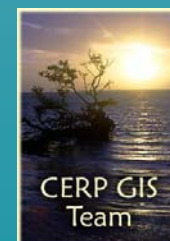

CERP Monitoring Locator Purpose

Provide an inventory of all environmental monitoring locations / initiatives from Shingle Creek to Florida Bay.

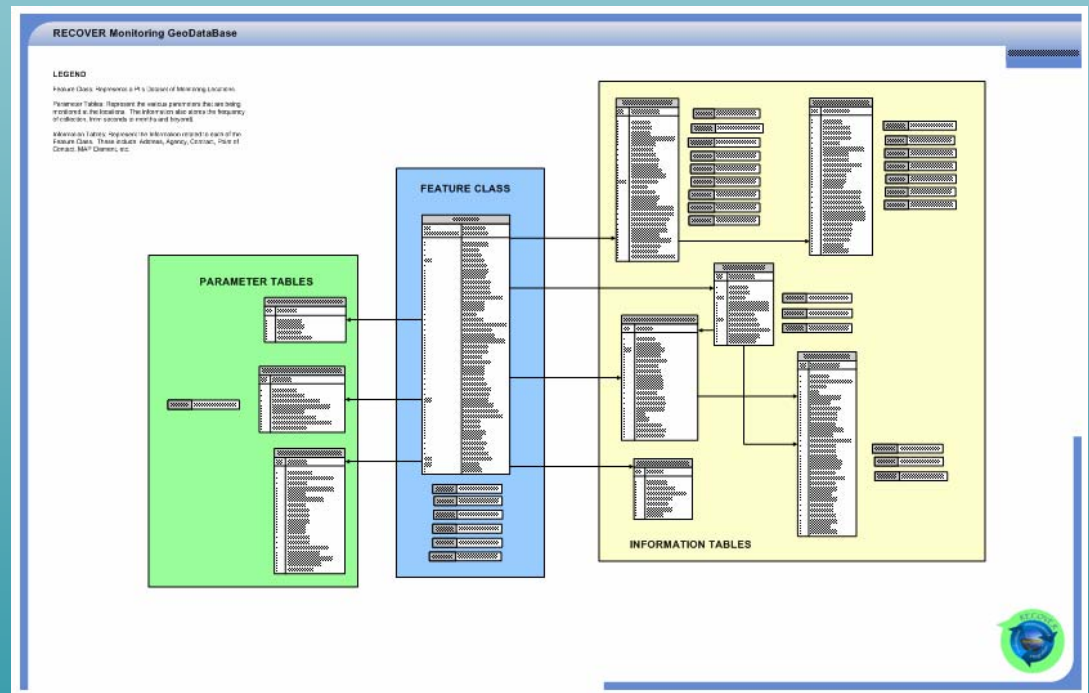

Disclaimer

The Monitoring Locator is not a storage facility for monitored data.

On-Going RECOVER GIS Efforts

- RECOVER GIS Support
 - Database stores descriptive monitoring location information including GIS required spatial data.
 - Maintains Contact Information, Contract Numbers and a link to instructions for accessing the data.

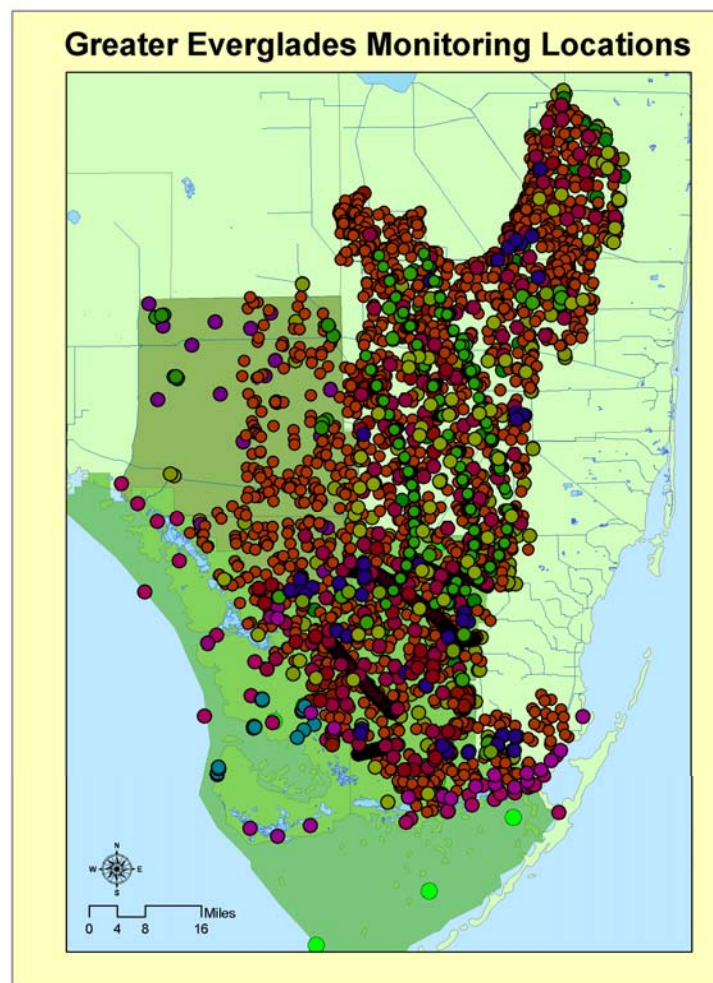

Monitoring Locator Functionality

Selection options:

- Point
- Area
- Keyword
- Parameter / Attribute
- Combinations

Monitoring Locator Functionality

FIU Biological Monitoring Sites

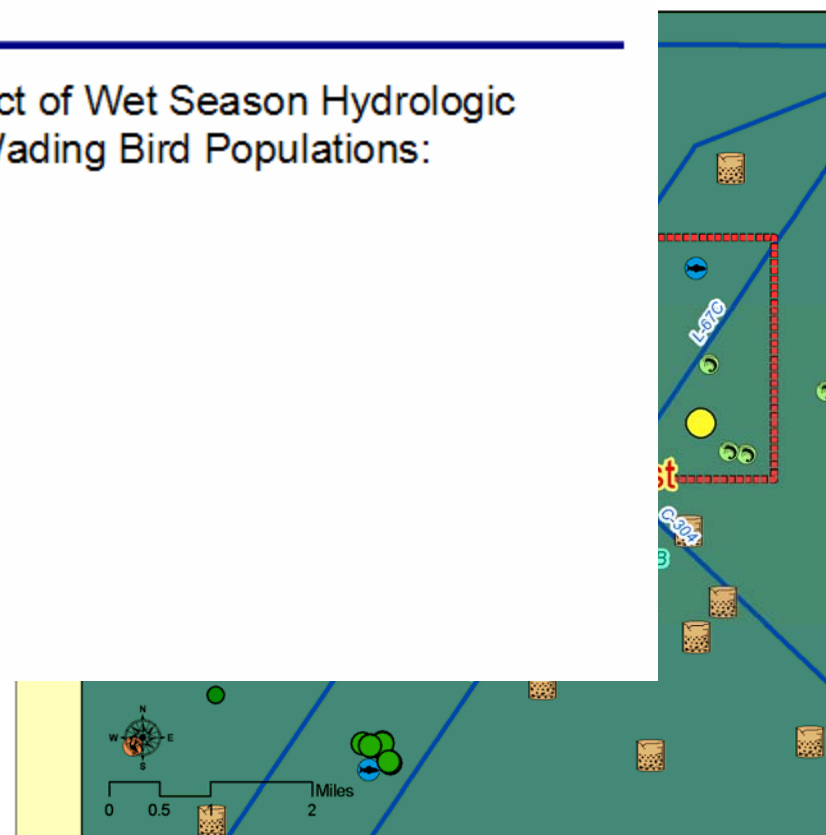

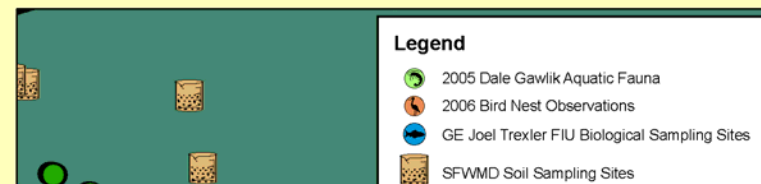

Description: RECOVER MAP: The Effect of Wet Season Hydrologic Patterns on Prey Populations that Support of Wading Bird Populations: AQUATIC FAUNA AND PERIPHYTON

Location Name: 19-A

Point of Contact: Joel Trexler
FIU
Principal Investigator
trexlerj@fiu.edu

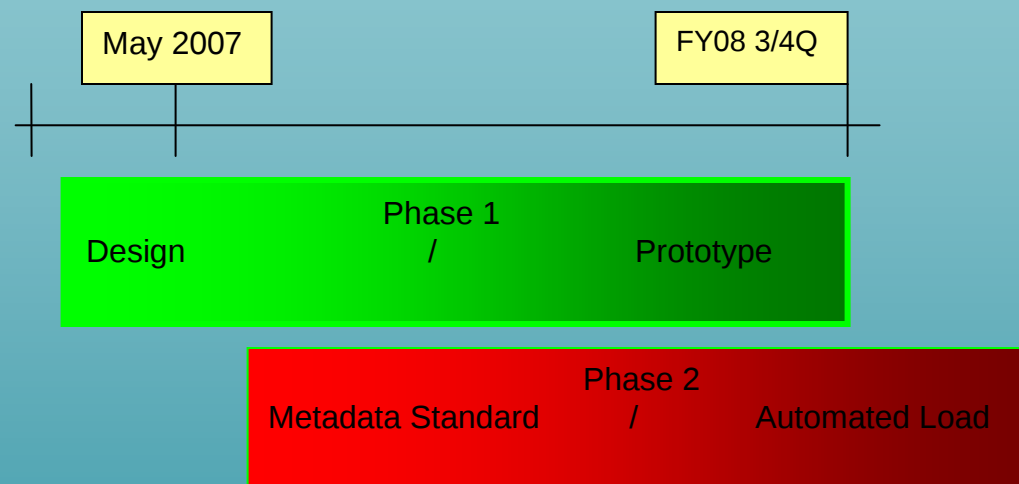

Contract: CP040130

Greater Everglades Monitoring Locations

Monitoring Locator Timeline

Potential Interface for Monitoring Locator

GIS
Geographic Information
Systems

Future Recreation Locator
Planned Recreation Opportunities for South Florida

Queries | Drilldown | Layers

Query By:
☐ Program ☒ Project

Select Project

--Select Project--

- ACME BASIN B DISCHARGE
- ACME MARSH
- ALLAPATTAH RANCH
- ATLANTIC RIDGE ECOSYSTEM
- BIG PINE KEY

More Info

CERPZONE.ORG

Questions

