PART III: EVALUATION CRITERIA

1. Project Name: (as listed in the Strategic Beach Management Plan)

Key Biscayne Beach Nourishment

2. Project Description: Include county, location with reference to DEP range monuments, brief project history, and description of proposed activities.

The Village of Key Biscayne (Village) beach is in Miami-Dade County, south of Beach Cut and north of Cape Florida, located between Florida Department of Environmental Protection (FDEP) R-monuments R-101 and R-108. The initial beach restoration for Key Biscayne occurred in 1987, with placement of approximately 420,000 cubic yards (cy) of fill between R-101 and R-113 as part of the federally authorized Key Biscayne Shore Protection Project. The Village has since completed six additional nourishment efforts on Key Biscayne Beach. Despite continued nourishment efforts, the beach at Key Biscayne continues to suffer severe erosion on an annual basis, with and without the presence of major storm events due the effects of a break in the littoral system at Government Cut. Based on long-term monitoring, the Village typically loses between 5,000 and 10,000 cy of sand per year requiring a renourishment interval of 3 to 4 years to provide shore protection for the upland community. The FDEP has continued to cost share these frequent nourishment events.

Most recently, the Village completed a truck haul nourishment project in 2024. This project restored the shoreline after numerous coastal storm events, including Hurricanes Ian and Nicole, as well as multiple no name storms that caused significant erosion in Winter 2023. In some segments of the shoreline, significant escarpment was caused along the vegetated dune line. The Project placed approximately 25,400 cy of fill material between R-103.5 to R-107+750' by truck haul. The design also included dune fill and dune planting to restore the eroded dune. Construction of the project, including dune planting, occurred between March 2024 and June 2024, and permit-required post-construction monitoring will continue through 2026.

Given the recent increase in coastal storm events and the likelihood of continued impacts due to sea level rise, the Village has been exploring new methods to protect the shoreline and upland infrastructure. An offshore hybrid barrier reef to reduce shoreline recession and the frequency of beach nourishment events. Consideration of an offshore reef structure to reduce coastal erosion is based on the results of a Beach Management Study conducted in 2018 that confirmed an offshore reef structure could effectively minimize waves reaching the shoreline, mitigate shoreline recession, and enhance the longevity between nourishments. The Village plans to conduct a hydrodynamic and sediment transport analysis of the shoreline in FY 2025/26 which will determine the reef's feasibility and effectiveness.

Funds requested in this Local Government Funding Request (LGFR) will be used for the permit-required monitoring to the 2024 beach nourishment project, as well as to fund the feasibility study for the hybrid reef structures.

cost effectiveness

The design of the beach is limited by adjacent nearshore resources. The recent truck haul projects are limited in scale to avoid impacts to nearshore seagrass. An iterative analysis is performed to determine the maximum beach fill template currently permitted and reviewed with the predicted Equilibrium Toe of Fill (ETOF) analysis to avoid impacts to the nearshore seagrass.

Hybrid reefs are a cost-effective, natural buffer to coastal hazards and serve as the region's first line of defense against coastal erosion and flooding. Unlike traditional built (cement-based) structures, hybrid reefs are self building and self-repairing, able to continue to grow after deployment, catch up to the projected sea level rise, and build long-term resilience to storms.

Beach management along the shoreline of the Village of Key Biscayne continues to be affected by the long term downdrift impacts of Government Cut. The area is critically eroded and continues to experience erosion due to the inlet acting as a complete littoral barrier. Due to the long term littoral processes, adjacent beach areas to the north and south of Key Biscayne benefit from sand placed along the shores of Key Biscayne. These adjacent beach areas include Crandon Park which is managed by Miami-Dade County to the north as well as Bill Baggs Cape Florida State Park to the north. These beach areas have not required nourishment since the last federal project that was constructed in 1987. These public parks are also 100% accessible by the public, and beach-goers regularly access the beach within the Village. The Village has been taking a more proactive approach to beach management over the last few years. The Village, in conjunction with Miami-Dade County, with coordination of Florida DEP, has been working to be added to the Coastal Storm Risk Management (CSRM) feasibility study that was conducted by Jacksonville District Corps of Engineers with Miami-Dade County as the local sponsor. This CSRM was conducted to evaluate the extension of the Federal Shore Protection Project in the County that is set to expire in a few years at the end of the 50-year agreement. The Village coordinated with the Corps to add Key Biscayne to this CSRM in an effort to promote long term beach management in the Village as part of the Federal Shore Protection Project. The Corps has completed two federal projects within the Village over the years beginning in 1969 with the last federal project completed in 1987. In the final Chief's report approved in September 2022, Key Biscayne was not incorporated into the federal project. The USACE appropriated an initial $500,000 in funding for a Back Bay CSRM for Key Biscayne, as the CSRM outlined flood risk from the "back bay" areas of Key Biscayne. This CSRM was initiated in October 2023 and is expected to take 3 years. Once the Chief's report is complete, the Village's long term goal is to be added to the federal shore protection project with Miami-Dade County as the local sponsor. In the meantime, the Village will need to conduct the maintenance truck haul projects and explore new technologies to reduce shoreline erosion and nourishment frequency, which is the purpose of this LGFR application.

1. Introduction

The purpose of this monitoring report is to document the pre- and immediate post-construction conditions for the 2024 Village of Key Biscayne Beach Renourishment Project (Project). The Project construction window spanned from March 18 to April 30, 2024. Sand placement occurred between March 25 and April 18, 2024, and placed approximately 25,400 cubic yards (cy) (35,560 tons) of sand via truck haul from the Garcia Mining Company Sand Mine along approximately 4,180 feet of shoreline between Florida Department of Environmental Protection (FDEP) R-monuments R-103.5 and R-107+750'. The dune planting associated with the Project was conducted between June 24 and June 27, 2024.

This report provides an analysis of the pre- and post-construction shoreline location and beach volume changes within the Project monitoring area, as outlined in the Village of Key Biscayne Truck Haul Beach Renourishment Project, Miami-Dade County, Florida Physical Monitoring Plan (FDEP, 2012). The 2024 Physical Monitoring Report is divided into the following sections:

- Section 2 provides background of past beach management and renourishment efforts, as well as an overview of the Project and summary of environmental permits
- Section 3 provides the beach fill monitoring results for both shoreline and volumetric analyses, and
- Section 4 provides a summary, conclusions, and recommendations based on the monitoring analyses.

Additionally, the appendices provide supplemental information including beach profile plots derived from the pre- and immediate post-construction beach profile surveys (Appendix A), and shoreline and volumetric analysis summary tables (Appendix B).

In this report, all horizontal coordinates are in US survey feet and referenced to the Florida State Plane Coordinate System (East Zone), North American Datum of 1983 (NAD83). All elevations are in feet and referenced to the North American Vertical Datum of 1988 (NAVD). Figure 1 summarizes the Project monitoring area limits based on the FDEP reference monument control outlined in Physical Monitoring Plan (FDEP, 2012). Table 1 summarizes the FDEP reference monument control for the Project Area discussed in this monitoring report. The approximate distance between each R-monument is 1,000 ft. The tidal datum is based on the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) tidal benchmark 8723214 at Virginia Key, Biscayne Bay, FL, as illustrated in Figure 2 and Table 2.

Key Biscayne has a long history of documented beach restoration projects, starting with the 1987 Key Biscayne & Bill Baggs State Park Beach Nourishment Project located from FDEP monuments R-101 to R-113.7. A summary of the prior beach restoration projects on Key Biscayne is shown below in Table 3.

TABLE 3: VILLAGE OF KEY BISCAYNE BEACH RESTORATION PROJECT HISTORY

2.2. 2024 Beach Nourishment Project

The 2024 Beach Nourishment Project was a renourishment operation that was constructed by Eastman Aggregate Enterprises between March 18 and April 30, 2024 and consisted of truck hauling approximately 25,400 cy of beach-compatible sand from the Garcia Mining Company Sand Mine (Clewiston, Florida) to the Project Area, along approximately 4,180 linear feet of shoreline, between FDEP monuments R-103.5 to R-107+750'. Moffatt & Nichol was retained by the Village of Key Biscayne to design, permit, administer construction, and monitor the Project.

The purpose of the Project was to restore the Village shoreline to pre- hurricane Ian and Nicole conditions. Moffatt & Nichol initially recommended that the Village place approximately 16,410 cy of material within the Project Area to restore the beach to pre-hurricane Ian and Nicole conditions. However, in November 2023, the Village shoreline was impacted by heavy surf and king tides which caused visible signs of erosion within the Project Area and, in some segments of the shoreline, escarpment along the vegetated dune line. The Village requested additional topographic surveying of Key Biscayne Beach to evaluate the beach condition and potentially adjust the proposed Project design and target placement volume. Moffatt & Nichol's analysis of the survey data determined that the Project Area required approximately 22,400 cy of material to fill the existing beach condition at the time of the December 2023 Winter Survey to the previously proposed Project construction fill template, which was an additional 5,990 cy of material than previously specified (See Appendix C). Moffatt & Nichol communicated to the Village that additional sand may be required following an analysis of the pre-construction survey that would be taken in March 2024. The Village of Key Biscayne Council later authorized a maximum placement volume of 25,000 cy of sand on Key Biscayne Beach as part of the 2024 Beach Nourishment Project.

The final construction template was designed to avoid potential impacts to nearshore natural resources, particularly seagrass. Sediment placement was confined to the dry beach at the northern and southern ends of the Project Area (R-103.5 and R-107+750'), where sand was used for dune enhancements (Figure 3). The remainder of the project template included in-water sediment placement (Figure 4). Based on the survey data, the Project placed approximately 24,930 cy of sand within the Project Area, which correlates well to the reported truck haul placement volume of 25,400 cy.

3. Physical Monitoring Results

This section presents the analysis of the March 2024 pre-construction and April 2024 immediate post-construction surveys. The monitored shoreline between FDEP R-monuments R-103.5 and R-107+750' was analyzed for shoreline position at MHW (+0.15 ft NAVD) and volumetric changes above the depth of closure (DOC, -14 ft NAVD), using the collected survey data and the FDEP-approved Physical Monitoring Plan (FDEP, 2012). Details of the survey monitoring events are summarized below:

2024 Immediate Post-Construction Monitoring Survey Events

- Eastman Aggregate Enterprise, Inc. retained Oceanside Solutions as a subconsultant to conduct the pre- and immediate post-construction surveys between R-103.5 to R-107+750'.
 - Pre-construction survey began on March 6, 2024 and was completed on March 9, 2024.
 - Immediate post-construction survey began on March 24, 2024 and was completed on April 19, 2024.

Survey data files and permit-required survey deliverables were submitted under separate cover. Survey comparisons and respective analyses were performed using Regional Morphology Analysis Package (RMAP). RMAP is a program developed by the USACE to analyze morphologic and dynamic properties of beach profiles. The immediate post-construction and pre-construction survey data were formatted and imported into RMAP to allow for comparison of the data. Two indicators of beach profile change, shoreline position and volume change, were calculated for each transect.

3.1. Shoreline Position Change

Shoreline changes at MHW were calculated at each profile to determine shoreline position changes along the monitored shoreline. The MHW location provides a fixed reference for comparison and for this report is representative of shoreline position. The results of the shoreline monitoring analysis are presented in Table 4 and Figure 5. Table 4 displays the shoreline position change at MHW and the weighted average based on the shoreline length while Figure 5 illustrates the shoreline change comparing the pre-construction and immediate post construction surveys.

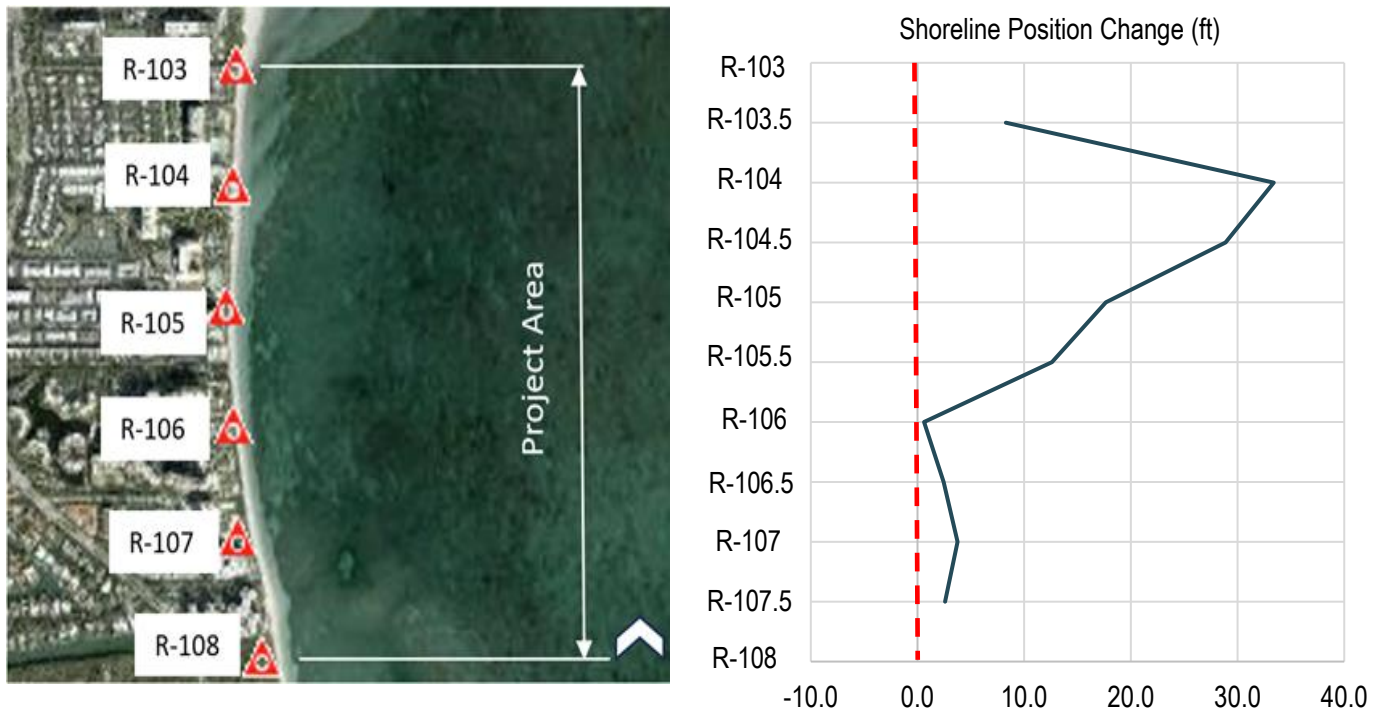

As a result of the Project, the shoreline position at MHW advanced seaward a weighted average of 11.9 ft within the Project Area (Table 4 and Figure 5). All transects within the Project Area depict shoreline advancement as a result of the Project. The most significant seaward advancement was observed in the northern and middle sections of the Project Area, between R-103.5 and R-105.5, boasting the greatest shoreline advancement of 33.4 feet at R-104. This area of shoreline was the most impacted segment of shoreline by Hurricanes Ian and Nicole and the winter storm activity, and therefore, required additional sand for renourishment compared to the southern half of the Project Area, which was less affected by storm activity. Smaller shoreline advancements were observed between R-106 to R-107.5, with the smallest change to the shoreline position observed at R-106 by approximately 0.6 ft.

3.2. Beach Volumetric Change

Analysis of volumetric change provides an indication of total profile performance. Volumetric change provides a comprehensive measure of performance and is presented for the surveyed beach profile landward of the depth of closure (DOC). The DOC is generally accepted to be -14 ft NAVD for this area of the Miami-Dade County coast. The pre- and immediate post-construction surveys were analyzed for volumetric change above the DOC by using the average end area method. Volumetric change above the DOC by the average end area method is summarized in Table 5 and Figure 6. Additionally, Appendix A includes the beach profile plots derived from the pre-construction and immediate post-construction surveys.

As a result of the Project, the Project Area gained approximately 24,930 cy of sand above the DOC. Similarly to the results observed in Section 3.1, the areas within the northern half of the Project Area exhibit greater net positive volumetric changes as a result of the Project. The greatest volumetric change was observed in the area between R-104 to R-104.5, with a net gain of 5,920 cy of material. The areas to the south of the Project Area did not require as much sand as the areas to the north, as this area to the south, based on the survey data, did not display as severe of an eroded beach condition prior to Project commencement.

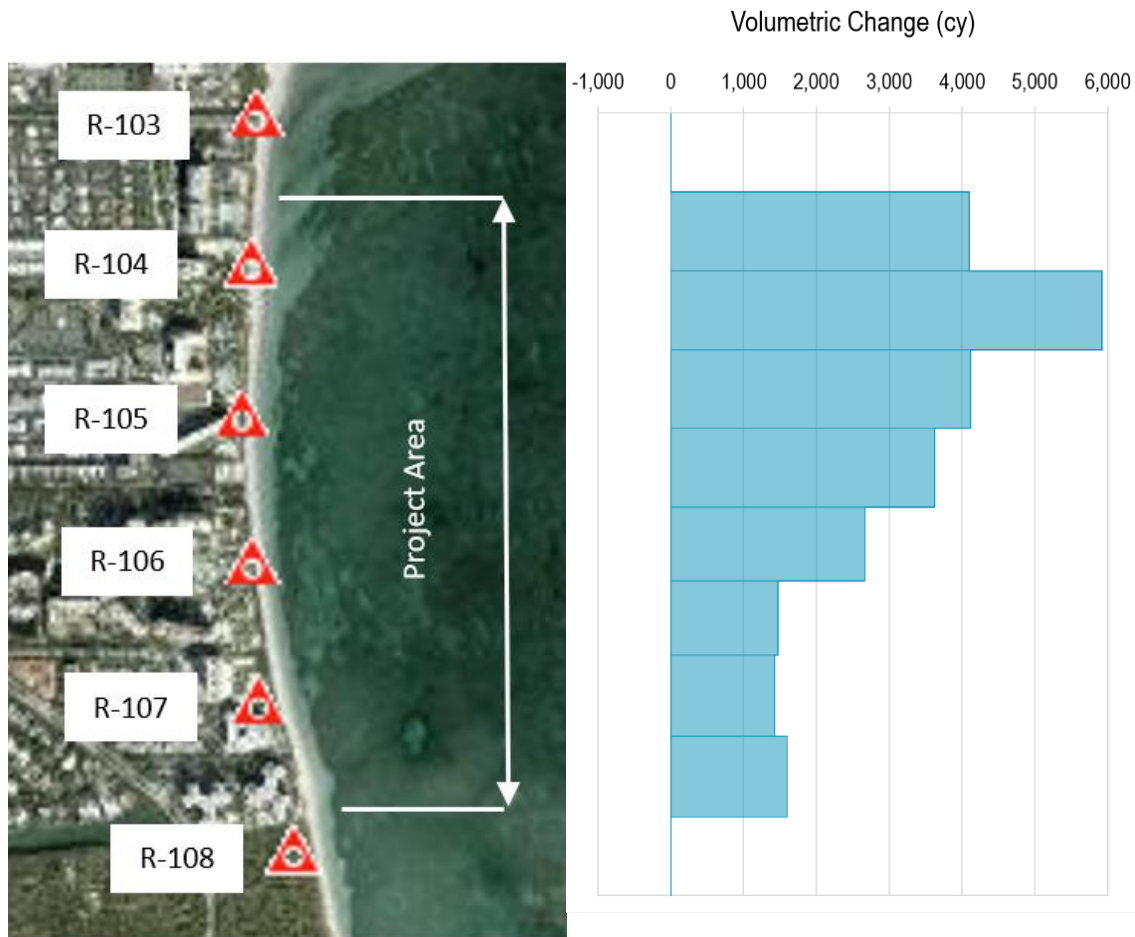

The measured gains are lesser than the total reported truck haul placement volume of 25,400 cy, which could be the result of survey biases and changes in the nearshore, including natural changes occurring between the pre- and immediate post-construction surveys and typical construction inaccuracies in filling the template. The difference in the reported truck haul placed volume of 25,400 cy and the measured immediate post-construction volume of 24,930 cy is less than a vertical difference of 3.2 inches across the Project Area.

3.3. Evaluation of Performance

The purpose of the Project was to restore the Village of Key Biscayne shoreline to pre- hurricane Ian and Nicole conditions. Prior to construction, Moffatt & Nichol determined that the Project Area required approximately 22,400 cy of material to fill the existing beach condition, at the time of the December 2023 Winter Survey, to the previously proposed Project construction fill template initially requiring 16,410 cy of sand, which was an additional 5,990 cy of material than previously specified. The Village of Key Biscayne Council authorized a maximum placement volume of 25,000 cy of sand on Key Biscayne Beach as part of the 2024 Beach Nourishment Project. The total reported placement volume for the Project was 25,400 cy of sand as measured by the truck tickets.

The 2024 Beach Nourishment Project placed material in the areas that were severely eroded by hurricane and storm activity while minimizing any impacts to nearshore seagrasses. In accordance with permits issued by the DEP, U.S. Army Corps, and DERM, post-construction physical monitoring surveys and accompanying reports will be completed annually for a total of three years to further evaluate the Project's performance. All future post-construction physical monitoring and reports shall provide a comparative review of the project's performance to performance expectations to identify any adverse impacts attributable to the Project.

4. Conclusions and Recommendations

The 2024 Beach Nourishment Project was a renourishment operation that was constructed by Eastman Aggregate Enterprises between March 18 and April 30, 2024 and consisted of truck hauling approximately 25,400 cy of beach-compatible sand from the Garcia Mining Company Sand Mine (Clewiston, Florida) to the Project Area, along approximately 4,180 linear feet of shoreline, between FDEP monuments R-103.5 to R-107+750'. Moffatt & Nichol was retained by the Village of Key Biscayne to design, permit, administer construction, and monitor the Project.

The beach condition within the monitoring area was analyzed in terms of shoreline position and volumetric change based on the March 2024 pre-construction and April 2024 immediate post-construction surveys. A bulleted summary of these analyses is as follows:

- Based on a weighted average with respect to the shoreline length, the shoreline advanced seaward an average of 11.9 feet as a result of the Project.
 - The areas most impacted by the hurricane and storm activity received the most sand. The most significant seaward advancement was observed in the northern and middle sections of the Project Area, between R-103.5 and R-105.5, boasting the greatest shoreline advancement of 33.4 feet at R-104.
 - The areas that were less impacted by storm activity did not exhibit significant shoreline position changes following Project completion. Smaller shoreline advancement was observed between R-106 to R-107.5, with the smallest change to the shoreline position observed at R-106 by approximately 0.6 ft.
- The analyses conducted as part of this report indicated that the Project Area gained approximately 24,930 cy of material above the depth of closure.
 - The areas within the northern segment of the Project Area exhibit greater net positive volumetric changes as a result of the Project. The greatest volumetric change was observed in the area between R-104 to R-104.5, with a net gain of 5,920 cy of material.
 - The areas to the south of the Project Area did not require as much sand as the areas to the north, as this area to the south, based on the survey data, did not display as severe of an eroded beach condition prior to Project commencement.

In accordance with permits issued by the DEP, Corps, and DERM, post-construction physical monitoring surveys and accompanying reports will be completed annually for a total of three years to further evaluate the Project's performance. All future post-construction physical monitoring and reports shall provide a comparative review of the project's performance to performance expectations to identify any adverse impacts attributable to the Project.

Appendix C – Key Biscayne Emergency Beach Nourishment – Revised Volumes Technical Memorandum

MEMORANDUM

To: Roland Samimy, Ph.D. (VKB)
From: Tim Blankenship, P.E., Mario Grune, D.Sc., & Zack Valerio, E.I.
Date: December 27, 2023
Subject: Key Biscayne Emergency Beach Nourishment - Revised Volumes
M&N Job No.: 210149/13

The following memorandum summarizes the recent metocean conditions attributed to the beach erosion observed along the shoreline of the Village of Key Biscayne (Village), Florida. Moffatt & Nichol (M&N) has been working with the Village on the design and permitting for the emergency beach nourishment (Project) to address erosion caused by the passing of Hurricane Ian and Nicole. The construction for the Project was advertised for bids, and bids were received on November 20th, 2023. In November, the Village shoreline was impacted by heavy surf and king tides, and presently shows visible signs of erosion within the proposed Project area and, in some segments of the shoreline, escarpment along the vegetated dune line.

Construction could commence as early as late February, 2024. The Village authorized M&N to evaluate beach conditions and to estimate erosion as a result of this winter storm activity. The work was authorized by PO# 24-0098 based on M&N's scope of work dated November 22, 2023. This memo also documents and evaluates the existing beach conditions and recommends beach fill templates with updated volumes to compare with the proposed beach nourishment Project volume for review by the Village.

Metocean Conditions

The following section summarizes meteorological and oceanographic data to understand recent conditions observed in the vicinity of Key Biscayne.

Peak water levels were observed on November 15th as a result of spring tides and storm surge. Based on verified measurements provided by the nearest National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) tidal benchmark 872314 at Virginia Key, Biscayne Bay, FL, the area within the vicinity of the proposed Project experienced an approximate peak water level of +2.77 ft MSL (+1.88 ft NAVD88) on November 15th, 2023 (Figure 1).

Based on the predicted water level measurements at the Virginia Key Station, the tidal range between November 13th and November 15th was expected to be greater than the average tidal range, indicating a spring tide period. Additionally, king tides are expected to occur between September and November, and therefore, the spring tides observed in November 2023 may have been higher than what is usually observed throughout the year.

Comparison of the verified measurements and predicted water level measurements provide an estimate of storm surge. The area experienced an estimated peak storm surge of +2.03 ft on November 16th (Figure 1), with storm surge elevations greater than +1.5 ft throughout the day on November 15th. The data also indicates that storm activity occurred between November 4th and 7th. Although the estimated storm surge between November 4th and 7th are not as high as those values observed on November 15th, this prolonged storm activity may have contributed an equal or greater part in the recent erosion observed at Key Biscayne Beach.

Figure 1 depicts the predicted vs. verified and preliminarily recorded water levels relative to Mean Sea Level (MSL) at the Virginia Key Station for the month of November and includes an estimated storm surge level based on the verified and predicted tidal measurements.

Significant wave height data were extracted from the nearest offshore buoy (Station 41122 – Hollywood Beach, FL) monitored by the National Data Buoy Center (NDBC), which indicated that the peak significant wave height within the vicinity of the Project area was observed on November 16th, 2023 reaching 13.1 ft (Figure 2). Significant wave height values between November 15th and November 17th, were higher than typical wave heights observed throughout the week. Figure 2 illustrates a time series of the significant wave heights recorded at Station 41122 – Hollywood Beach, FL between November 11th to November 19th.

Wind data were extracted from NOAA Station 8722314 at Virginia Key, Biscayne Bay, FL to evaluate the conditions in the vicinity of the Project area. In November 2023, the site-specific prevailing winds were predominantly from the northeast direction, occurring 44.5% of the time, with some winds approaching from the northwest direction 24.5% of the time. Wind speeds from the northeast direction typically ranged from 5 and 10 knots, with stronger winds ranging between 15 and 25 knots, occurring 7.3 % of the time. Figure 3 displays the wind rose developed by data from Station 8722314.

Documentation and Evaluation of Existing Beach Condition

Following the passage of the recent storms, erosion of the proposed Project area and escarpment of the dune vegetation line were documented by Village staff. Figure 6 and Figure 7 provide examples of escarpment along the dune vegetation line and a narrow beach width within the Project area.

Following these observations, the Village requested additional surveying of Key Biscayne Beach to evaluate the beach conditions. The field measurements would provide data for revisions to the proposed beach nourishment Project design and target placement volume. Olin Hydrographic Solutions was retained by M&N, to conduct topographic surveying of the Village shoreline between R-101 and R-108, at each R-monument and half-monument transect. Topographic surveying of Key Biscayne was completed on December 5th, 2023 (Dec. 2023 Topographic Survey). The topographic surveying was conducted to minimize costs and to provide a more rapid response. The topographic data was extended in the surf to wading depth, as this is the nearshore area where sand bars may have been formed. Full beach profile surveys, in accordance with Florida DEP requirements, will be conducted as part of the beach nourishment construction.

Beach Fill Templates and Revised Fill Volumes

Moffatt & Nichol analyzed the Dec. 2023 Topographic Survey data using the average end area method to estimate the updated volume of material required to fill the Project area to the proposed Project construction fill template. Table 1 compares the volume of material proposed in the construction documents and the revised volumes determined by the analysis. The Project area requires approximately 22,400 cy of material to fill the existing beach condition to the previously proposed Project construction fill template. This revised volume represents an additional increase of approximately 6,000 cy (36% increase).

The profiles shown in Figure 8 to Figure 15 illustrate the proposed Project construction template relative to both the July 2023 Post-Construction Monitoring Survey and the December 2023 Topographic Survey. For all profiles, the December 2023 Topographic Survey displays a more eroded beach condition compared to the July 2023 Physical Monitoring Survey data.

Summary & Discussion

In conclusion, both the frequency and duration of the recent storm activity observed at Key Biscayne, coupled with spring/king tides in the month of November, are likely the leading causes to the recent erosion and escarpment observed along the Village shoreline. Although wave, tidal, and wind conditions produced by the storm that passed through the area between November 4th and November 7th were not as high as those observed on November 15th and 16th, the duration of this storm may have contributed an equal or greater part to the erosion and escarpment observed at Key Biscayne Beach.

The Village requested additional topographic surveying of Key Biscayne Beach to evaluate the beach condition and potentially adjust the proposed Project design and target placement volume. Moffatt & Nichol's analysis of the survey data determined that the Project area requires approximately 22,400 cy of material to fill the existing beach condition to the previously proposed Project construction fill template, which is an additional 5,990 cy of material than previously specified. Moffatt and Nichol recommends placement of at least 22,400 cy of material on Key Biscayne to restore the beach to pre-Ian and Nicole conditions. Pre-construction surveys will be conducted in early February, and the beach profiles will be evaluated at that time relative to construction volumes. In addition, updated Equilibrium Toe of Fill (ETOF) analyses will be performed, and the beach fill templates adjusted accordingly, as applicable.

VILLAGE OF KEY BISCAIYNE

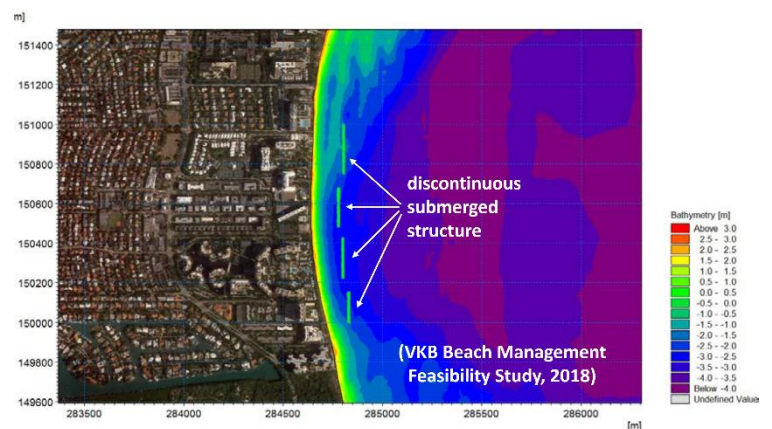

Key Biscayne Offshore Barrier Reef System to Protect Ocean and Bay Side Shorelines Top Federal FY25 Legislative Priority

- 1) Description of the project: The Village of Key Biscayne (Village) is one of the most vulnerable coastal communities in Southeast Florida. The island's exposure to rising sea levels on both the oceanside and the bayside of the island and other environmental threats require an increased investment to protect the community's quality of life. In the face of these risks, the Village has been proactive and is diligently working with federal, state, and regional partners to develop a comprehensive Resilient Infrastructure and Adaptation Program, also known as the Elevating Our Island Paradise resilience program.

The Village's beach and bay sides were recently included in the United States Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) Coastal Storm Risk Management (CSRM) Program. The USACE is currently focusing on dune enhancement coupled with beach renourishments every 16 months. Implementing an offshore hybrid barrier reef that mixes conservation and restoration of nature using a green-gray approach could maximize this effort. The goal of a hybrid reef would reduce shoreline recession and the frequency of beach renourishments if installed in shallow near-shore water. Over the next 50 years, the use of a hybrid reef could also translate into significant savings.

The first step in the hybrid barrier reef effort is to study the water circulation and sand transport to understand how the reef would work to reduce shoreline recession rates. A "Hydrodynamic and Sediment Transport Analysis" would determine the reef's feasibility and effectiveness by studying the movement of water and its impact to shoreline recession. Once the study has been completed and proves to be a solution, the hybrid barrier reef may go through design, permitting, and ultimately construction. Additional modeling or participation in a pilot program may also be needed.

Consideration of a hybrid reef structure to reduce coastal erosion is based on the results of a Beach Management Study conducted in 2018 that confirmed an offshore hybrid barrier reef structure could effectively minimize waves reaching the shoreline and mitigate shoreline recession. Shoreline protection is one of the resilience program's Lines of Effort. The Village has discussed solutions for erosion, shoreline protection, sea level rise, and flooding at public workshops and events for the past four years and public feedback shows a strong support for submerged barrier structures like hybrid reefs.

VILLAGE OF KEY BISCAINE

2) What are the potential benefits of the project?

- The proposed project will benefit all Village residents and visitors, particularly multi-family home residents and the approximately seven million annual visitors to the island of Key Biscayne.
- It addresses one of our island community's top concerns from our most recent 2024 biennial survey: 4 out of 5 respondents indicated the highest priority for the Village should be beach renourishment and sea level rise mitigation.
- This project ultimately maximizes the infusion of beach-quality sand onto the coast and extends the life of beach restoration projects, reducing the frequency of nourishment. By reducing the frequency of beach renourishments, the Village can cut equipment mobilization and demobilization costs over time and minimize environmental impacts associated with sand mining, transportation, and construction, while also reducing roadway impacts and overall community inconvenience.
- Other environmental benefits include mitigating the threats from beach erosion to turtle nesting, shore birds, nearshore seagrasses, and propagation of corals. Corals are critically important for reef growth, fisheries habitat, biodiversity, and provide added protection against storm surge.
- Reducing beach erosion has direct effects on the local economy and property values, as a reduction in property value throughout the island would cause significant and far-reaching impacts to government services and infrastructure.

This project will be a learning tool for coastal communities in the region, across the state of Florida and nationally while also being an educational opportunity for Key Biscayne residents. Working closely with Miami-Dade County, other coastal communities, and federal and state partners, the Village will ensure geographic coordination and sequencing of this project and others as we continue Elevating Our Island Paradise.

3) Amount requested and total project cost: $750,000 for the "Hydrodynamic and Sediment Transport Analysis"

4) Demonstrating Improvements: Hybrid reefs are a cost-effective, natural buffer to threats of coastal hazards and serve as the region's first line of defense against coastal erosion and flooding. Unlike traditional built (cement-based) structures, hybrid reefs are self-building and self-repairing, able to continue to grow after deployment, catch up to projected sea level rise, and build long-term resilience to storms.

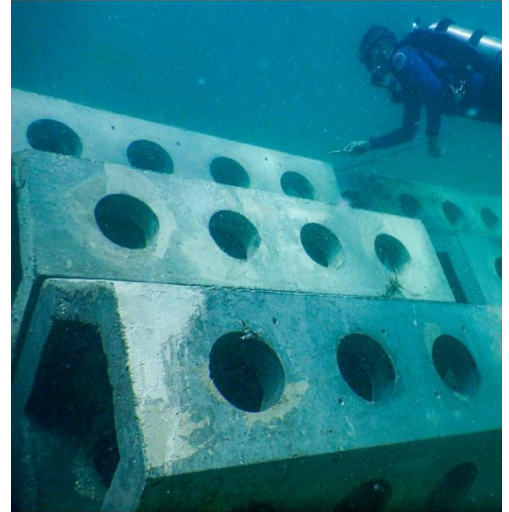

Implementing this project through the resilience program is a proven method of fortifying the island's shoreline. It directly addresses the state's beach erosion problems, and is a significant step toward building a stronger, more resilient Key Biscayne.
