Florida Forever New Project Application

Florida Forever is the state's conservation and recreation lands acquisition program. To be considered for acquisition, a project must have a willing seller and be on the Florida Forever Priority List. The Florida Forever Priority List identifies projects that are suitable as a conservation property and meet the Florida Forever Goals, Performance Measures and Criteria.

The Florida Forever Priority List is developed by the Acquisition and Restoration Council (ARC) and is approved by the Board of Trustees (BOT). The BOT must approve a project placed on the Florida Forever Priority List before it can be pursued for acquisition.

Proposed projects are prioritized and ranked in categories by ARC members in December, and the BOT approves the ARC-recommended Florida Forever Priority List in May, when a project is officially added to the list.

Applications for new Florida Forever projects are accepted by the Florida Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) two times per year, April 15 and Oct. 15. To propose a new project for the Florida Forever Priority List, submit this application along with the supporting documentation specified in Attachments A-C below in electronic format (PDF) to the email address below.

Please note that up to 18 copies may be requested. Maps should be in color and set to print no larger than 11 inches x 17 inches. Applicants may also consult the Florida Natural Areas Inventory Florida Forever Conservation Data Viewer to ensure proposed parcels are not already within an approved project boundary.

ATTACHMENT A - NARRATIVE

Square One Ranch

Introduction & General Description

Square One Ranch is a proposed $\pm 1,564.49$ -acre less-than-fee acquisition project located in southwestern Highlands County. The project encompasses a single parcel owned by Daphne Waldron. According to the Highlands County Property Appraiser in October 2024, the just value of the property is \$10,519,012 (Attachment B). The landowner maintains a grazing lease over the entire property for a cow-calf operation. The landowners are enrolled in Best Management Practices (BMPs) and manage this property to those standards.

1. Project Location

Square One Ranch is located approximately 10 miles west of Lake Placid and 12 miles northwest of Archbold Biological Station. The property's northern boundary abuts SR-70, seven miles west of US-27. Square One Ranch is surrounded by a network of federal, state, and private conservation easements including wetland reserve easements, XL Ranch Conservation Easements, and the Lake Wales Ridge Wildlife and Environmental areas, among others.

The entire property is within an area identified as Priority 1 critical linkage by the Florida Ecological Greenways Network and is therefore also top priority for conservation for the Florida Wildlife Corridor.

2. Physical, Natural, Biological, Hydrological, Archaeological & Historical Resources
Square One Ranch features nine different habitat types, primarily mesic flatwoods, with scattered areas of isolated freshwater marsh. Pasture, both improved and unimproved, exists on-property. The northern fields are heavily improved and planted in Bahia grass. However, the southern half of the property is better described as wet prairie or unimproved pasture – no improvements have been made for cattle forage there; it is in its native condition. The entire property is remarkably free from invasive species.

A diverse array of imperiled species are within range of and would benefit from the conservation of this property. According to FNAI's Biodiversity Matrix, Florida black bear (Ursus americanus floridanus), Crested caracara (Caracara cheriway), Gopher tortoise (Gopherus polyphemus), Wood stork (Mycteria americana) and Eastern indigo snake (Drymarchon couperi) stand to benefit, as well as many species of endangered plants.

FWC Florida Panther telemetry data from 1981-2020 confirms that panthers make use of this area to traverse the landscape. Moreover, Square One Ranch is firmly within an area identified as priority for least-cost panther corridor conservation by the University of Central Florida and USFWS. This dataset aims to connect properties known to be important to panther breeding and dispersal with the least amount of financial burden to do so.

The Critical Land and Water Identification Project (CLIP) identifies Square One Ranch as composed entirely of Priority 2, 4, and 5 areas for Significant Surface Waters; Multiple wetlands of priority levels 2, 3, 4, and 5 are scattered throughout the property. Moreover, a significant area of Priority 3, 4, and 5 natural floodplain, or FEMA 100-year floodplain, is located on the central and northern portions of the property. The site is located entirely on an aquifer recharge area identified as Priority levels 3, 4, and 5.

The permanent conservation of this property would protect habitat that is important to imperiled species, especially for panthers and black bear, while also safeguarding water resources that are important to aquifer recharge, surface water quality and temporary water storage during storm events. This property would contribute to a robust corridor of conservation lands on both sides of SR-70 in a part of that state which is rapidly developing.

- a. Historical Structures (50+ years old)
No historic structures or artifacts are known to exist on the property.
- b. Improvements & Facilities

One residential homesite as well as a handful of non-residential structures exist on the property. A sporting clays shooting area encompasses approximately 10 acres of the property on the western boundary; this area is free of impervious surfaces and is largely unimproved, however there is a sand berm which encircles the area for safety.

3. Potential Public Recreation Opportunities & Benefit

Preservation of Square One Ranch is crucial to the Florida Wildlife Corridor and protecting biodiversity and landscape mobility for species with large home ranges. The property's location adjacent to conservation areas further enhances its public benefit.

While conserving Square One Ranch by way of less-than-fee acquisition may not provide recreational opportunities to the public, it provides public services by stewarding permeable wetlands that allow for aquifer recharge and temporary water storage after storms. Additionally, the property provides habitat for wildlife, which those exploring the Lake Wales Ridge and the surrounding publicly accessible conservation areas are likely to directly benefit from by observing larger numbers of wildlife both imperiled and otherwise.

4. Potential Threats and Development Plans

There are no known threats to or plans for development at Square One Ranch. However, it is located in a part of Highlands County which is facing mounting development pressure for resources like subdivisions and trailer parks.

5. Local Resolutions Related to Public Acquisition

Not applicable.

6. How the Project Meets Florida Forever Criteria

Conserving Square One Ranch would meet Florida Forever goals and performance measures by:

- Enhancing essential natural resources and corridor linkages (A1)
- Increasing acres protected by less-than-fee acquisition (A2)
- Increasing number of shared acquisition projects with funding partners, as this project is with the Avon Park Air Force Range Sentinel Landscape (A3)
- Acquire >1,000 acres of priority 2 & 3 strategic habitat conservation area (B1)
- Increase number of acres conserved for Florida's rarest species (B2)
- Conserve 115 acres of underrepresented native ecosystems (B4)
- Increase number of acres of priority 3, 4 & 5 natural floodplain areas (C4)
- Acquire ± 1,564 acres of priority 2 & 4 surface waters (C5)
- Acquire >150 acres of functional wetlands (C9)
- Acquire ± 1,564 acres of priority 2-6 aquifer recharge (D3)

- Increase number of acres acquired within a 100-year floodplain (I1)
- Increasing number of acres that are natural temporary water storage areas (I3)

7. Type of Proposed Acquisition

Square One Ranch is proposed for less-than-fee acquisition.

a. Property Uses & Retained Rights

The landowner wishes to continue to utilize the property for its current agricultural uses and reserve the right to limited cropping areas for seed and sod harvesting in the improved northern portion of the property. The landowner lives on the property and would like to reserve multiple residential building development envelopes for family use. In addition, the family has a sporting clays course on the property which is a source of revenue for the family. They would like to either carve this area out of the easement or include it with development restrictions.
